Schedule of League Representatives

2008-2009 Season

Greater Danbury USBC Association League Representative – Role Description

The league representative's role should be three-fold:

- 1) Act as the liaison between the local league officers and members and engage the appropriate individuals to resolve issues/concerns.

Examples of items to address with the league (not limited to these)

-Sanction Fees & Awards: Assist the league secretary in the proper procedures & appropriate forms to use for submitting USBC sanction fee payments, honor scores, and national / local awards. Assist in distribution of awards to the league members when called upon to do so by the GDUSBC Awards Committee chairperson.

-USBC Playing Rules: Be sure you understand and are able to communicate the USBC "Playing Rules" to help league officers resolve issues concerning league play (e.g. Know when a league rule is "illegal")

-League Rules: Ensure your league has written rules in place and that a copy of these rules are provided to the GDUSBC Rule Committee chairperson at the beginning of the season

2a) Act as liaison between the GDUSBC Association and the league officers/members. The league representative will need to be well versed in the USBC League Operations Handbook as well as know the structure of the GDUSBC board and its committees. The league representative will need be able to engage the appropriate GDUSBC committee member(s) for resolving league related issues/concerns.

2b) Be the primary source of notification for the following GDUSBC sponsored events: Tournaments, Coaching clinics, Scholarship/Incentive programs, Hall of Fame nomination, Open meetings, Workshops & Other special events.

3) Ensure the GDUSBC Association is represented in a positive light whenever dealing with the general public. It is our mission to help promote a positive image of the sport of bowling, which involves maintaining good relationships with press columnists, bowling center proprietors and fellow bowlers.

Each director should have a copy of the following. (Contact Joel Reichin at: joeldba@comcast.net)

Greater Danbury USBC Association League Representative - Procedures

Education:

One of the more important aspects of a league representative will be the education of league officers. Many new officers are unsure of the responsibilities of the office that they hold. They will have questions on how to fill out the paperwork such as the league sanction application and dues worksheets. You are not expected to do the job for them, but should be familiar enough with the process to answer any questions that they may have.

Three sources of information are provided to league officers as follows:

- Annual League Officer Workshop (conducted on August 10, 2008)
- The League Operations Handbook
- USBC Playing Rules

These are essential tools for both the officers and yourself. You should have a basic understanding of each officer's duties, together with the aspects of league operation. You do NOT have to memorize all the rules and procedures outlined within these books. Just be familiar enough to help guide them.

Rules:

The league rep is not expected to understand/memorize all the rules of play. If a league has a problem that involves a rule(s) or a complaint* is submitted regarding league play it is your responsibility to notify the GDUSBC Rules Committee so they can determine the proper action to take. The Rules Committee will determine the validity of the rule in question, and respond to you directly. Of course if it is a simple rule feel free to handle it locally. However, you should not attempt to solve all issues with rules on your own. You should ask the league secretary to supply you with a copy of the league rules, since many questions can be handled locally by simple review of the league rules in conjunction with the USBC Playing Rules.

 Complaint must be in writing. Should you receive a written complaint from any league member, you must forward this immediately to the proper league official. It is important to remember that a verbal complaint can not be acted upon officially by the GDUSBC unless the complaint is in writing.*

Communication:

It will be the league representative's responsibility to maintain monthly contact with the league officers, either in-person, or via e-mail or telephone. It is also advisable to visit the bowling center periodically and get to know the league members. (See Role Description for specific topics of discussion).
